OPOSSUM

Opossums are the only marsupials that live in North America. Marsupials are mammals whose babies live in pouches on their bellies, like kangaroos.

DUMPSTER DIVERS

Opossums eat almost anything, including fruit, nuts, insects, frogs, lizards, eggs, and plants. They'll even eat garbage and dead animals!

PLAY DEAD!

Lots of animals chase opossums. Instead of running away, sometimes they "play possum" and lie down, pretending to be dead.

FRONT PAW

* Range: 1 - 2 inches wide by 1 1/2 - 2 1/2 inches long

Opossums eat 5,000 ticks per year. Because humans can get illnesses from tick bites, they help keep us safe!

Come paw-to-paw with eight of your favorite animals!

Learn how your paw compares to Life-size embosses of common forest animal tracks.

HARE

Hares are land mammals that live in forests, prairies, and meadows. Their huge ears can hear soft sounds—like a fox's footsteps—from miles away.

HOPPY BIRTHDAY

From the moment they are born, hares can eat, hop, and run. Young hares like to chase each other. Sometimes they punch and kick in playful boxing matches.

Hares can jump over 15 feet (4.5m)!

PEEKABOO! I SEE YOU!

A hare can see sideways because its eyes are on the sides of its head. This makes it hard for a fox or wolf to sneak up on a hare.

FRONT PAW

* Range: 1 1/2 - 2 1/2 inches wide by 1 1/2 - 2 1/2 inches long

CUDDLY COUSINS

Hares are related to rabbits, but they are different. Unlike their cuddly cousins, hares do not burrow. They live above ground and make nests in shrubs and tall grass.

Chelsea O'Byrne is an illustrator and art instructor based in Vancouver, BC. She graduated from Emily Carr University in 2016 with a BFA in illustration and now works as an art teacher and freelance illustrator. She runs summer schools for children and test drives a new picture book on her class every day of the week.

There was once a boy named Thomas who lived in a regular house, had a regular life, and was quite unhappy.

This is a heartwarming story about the power of imagination and the even greater power of home.

"If I were a king, I would be in charge! No more eggs on toast for breakfast, I'd eat CAKE! I would read books all day long, and wear a glittering gold crown that I'd never take off."

In the morning, Thomas woke up in a bed that was certainly not his regular bed in his regular house. This bed was full of toys!

In fact, the whole room was full of wonderful things: colourful clothes with ribbons and jewels, shiny trays filled with sweets, and so many books it made Thomas dizzy to look at them.

He soon realized that he wasn't in a regular house at all. This was a castle!

A castle full of kings and queens who could do exactly as they pleased.

It was wonderful!

KAMALA HARRIS

Maria Isabel Sanchez Vegara (Barcelona, Spain) and Lauren Semmer

ISBN: 9780711265820

Little Kamala used to accompany her parents to civil rights marches in California, tied to her sister's stroller so she wouldn't get lost. From an early age, she dreamed of becoming a lawyer to help people in need. At college, Kamala felt like she could do anything and everything. She earned a law degree to make sure the most vulnerable were protected by justice. Kamala's life was full of firsts, including becoming the first woman, Black woman, and South Asian American to be elected Vice President. As Kamala stated to little girls everywhere in her speech—she may be the first but she won't be the last.

- Read about the groundbreaking and change-making US politician, Kamala Harris.
- Artwork by Lauren Semmer, NYT best-selling illustrator of ABCs of Black History.
- An empowering book for all little kids—but especially those with biracial and multiracial identities, who have parents from dual cultures, and can see themselves in the book.

MICHAEL JORDAN

Maria Isabel Sanchez Vegara (Barcelona, Spain) and Lo Harris

ISBN: 9780711259386

Little Michael wanted to be the first at everything—especially if that meant beating his older brother. One day, he came home crying... he'd been rejected from the basketball team at school. With his mom's message of "go out and earn it" ringing in his ears, Michael practiced all summer. Soon he was the star of the team, going from school, to college, to the Olympics. After six titles, more than 1,000 games and exactly 32,292 points, MJ became a sporting legend, who encouraged kids to "make it happen!" This inspiring book features stylish and quirky illustrations and extra facts at the back, including a biographical time line with historical photos and a detailed profile of the baller's life.

- The number one 3-7 year old biography series that shows how children with dreams become adults with great vision.
- Artwork by New York-based illustrator Lo Harris, who has been previously featured on The Ellen Show.
- Widely regarded as the all-time greatest legend of basketball, on and off the court.

LORE OF THE WILD

Folklore and Wisdom from Nature

Claire Cock-Starkey (Cambridge, UK) and Aitch

ISBN: 9780711260719

Did you know that people used to believe that rabbits' ears would twitch in the direction of a thunderstorm? That lilies could be used as fairy lamps? Traditional nature folklore can help us to understand how our ancestors interacted with the world around them, allowing us to see nature in a whole new light. Containing natural folklore and wild wisdom from all around the world.

- This enchanting book will bring ancient knowledge to a new generation, encouraging and inspiring a love for nature.
- Stunningly delicate and magical illustrations from Aitch capture the magic and strangeness inherent in natural folklore.
- The book takes you back to a time before Google, modern science and medicine, when people looked to the natural world for cures, weather forecasts and good luck.

Claire Cock-Starkey is an author who worked with Ben Schott on his hugely successful Miscellanies and Almanacs. She has worked for BBC Radio 4 and written many other miscellanies and fact-filled books on history, libraries, words, books, and museums, including: Penguins, Pineapples and Pangolins (British Library, 2016), The Book Lovers' Miscellany (Bodleian Library Publishing, 2017). She is happiest perched in the British Library reading rooms surrounded by a pile of obscure and fascinating books, researching her next book.

With over 50K followers on Instagram, nomadic illustrator AITCH originally hails from Romania but prefers not to put down roots in any one place; new scenery inspires and invigorates her tactile, folk illustrations and a constant string of exhibitions in cities across the continent pushes her technique further. Her dreamy characters hide among William Morris-esque gardens and bring to mind a bright and bold reincarnation of Victorian melancholy while still retaining a strong sense of her Romanian heritage.

Quarto Classroom

Welcome, Students!

Quarto Classroom is a free video library on YouTube of Quarto's creators using their books as teaching tools in educational spaces. Each video focuses on subjects ranging from Engineering to Social Sciences to Arts & Crafts, with Quarto creators guiding students through self-led discussions and projects. Many videos are accompanied by additional printable materials so students can follow along and participate.

With classes aimed at all ages, the sky is the limit when it comes to at-home learning. Quarto Classroom videos are the perfect way to ensure children are learning no matter the subject or setting.
