A HISTORY OF LOVE AND HATE IN 21 STATUES

Peter Hughes

A history of the world, told through the creation and destruction of 21 statues.

Building and destroying statues is a constant throughout human history. From Ancient Egypt's Hatshepsut to the toppling of Saddam Hussein in Iraq, Peter Hughes unpicks the past, illuminates the present and looks to the future through these controversial symbols of our identity. Statues embody stories of religions and deities, leaders rising or being deposed, and celebrate artists, philosophers and explorers. It is a fascinating alternative look at world history.

- The toppling of Edward Colston's statue in the Black Lives Matter protests show how statues can tell our stories.
- This history spans every continent, religion and era.
- An enthralling new approach, combining history and psychology.
- A new £300,000 statue of Margaret Thatcher in Grantham this year is guaranteed to generate headlines.

Philosopher and psychologist DR. PETER HUGHES has studied extremes of human behaviour and contributed to more than 40 broadcast programmes, including documentaries on Amy Winehouse, John Lennon, Whitney Houston and Harvey Weinstein.

WAKE ME UP WHEN IT'S ALL OVER...

UNPUBLISHED LETTERS TO THE TELEGRAPH

Edited by Kate Moore

In a surreal and unprecedented year in which even the most seasoned commentators have struggled to make sense of life in a global pandemic, letter writers to the Daily Telegraph have once again provided their refreshing and witty take on events.

Now in its thirteenth year, this new edition of the best-selling series is a review of the year made up of the wry and astute observations of the unpublished Telegraph letter writers.

Readers of the Telegraph Letters Page will be fondly aware of the eclectic combination of learned wisdom, wistful nostalgia and robust good sense of humour that characterise its correspondence – whether it's suggesting the sci-fi Vulcan salute as an alternative to the now-discouraged handshake, or a parable of political dysfunction drawn from shopping in Ikea.

From Brexit to Covid, Trump to Biden, lockdown to vaccination and parish council Jackie Weaver to Texas Cat lawyer Rod Ponton, no one escapes their hilariously whimsical and sometimes risqué musings. With an agenda as enticing as ever, the thirteenth book in the bestselling Unpublished Letters series will prove, once again, that the Telegraph's readers still have a shrewd sense of what really matters.

For the first time this title will also be available simultaneously as an audiobook.

This gripping narrative explores two formidable heroines – Etta Lemon and Emmeline Pankhurst – and their rival, overlapping campaigns. It restores Etta Lemon to her rightful place in history – the extraordinary woman who saved the birds.

A MUDLARK'S TREASURES
LONDON IN FRAGMENTS
Ted Sandling

Mudlarking enthusiast Ted Sandling takes us on a riveting journey along the Thames foreshore and back into the past.

Searching the Thames foreshore for items of value has a long tradition in London. In the late 18th and 19th centuries, mudlarks were small boys grubbing a living from scrap. Modern-day mudlark Ted Sandling shares his passion for unearthing relics of the past from the banks of the Thames and describes his fifty most evocative finds.
From Roman tiles to elegant Georgian pottery, these objects create a mosaic of everyday London life through the centuries.
This book celebrates the beauty of small things, and the intangible connection that found objects give us to the past.

CONCRETE CONCEPT

BRUTALIST BUILDINGS AROUND THE WORLD

Christopher Beanland

The world's most impressive, celebrated and controversial Brutalist buildings.

No modern architectural movement has aroused so much awe and so much ire as Brutalism. This global survey profiles 50 brutalist beasts around the world (built between the 1950s to 1970s), and demonstrates how Brutalism infected popular culture. This is architecture at its most assertive: compelling, distinctive, sometimes terrifying. But, as Concrete Concept shows, Brutalism can be about love as well as hate.

CHRISTOPHER BEANLAND lives in London and is the author of Lido and Unbuilt. He has also written the novels The Wall in the Head and Spinning Out of Control. He writes about architecture, culture and the arts for newspapers including the Independent, Guardian, Telegraph and various global magazines.

Pete Katz

An intriguing new view of Sun Tzu's The Art of War, by award-winning illustrator Pete Katz.

Hailed as the oldest philosophical discussion on military strategy, Sun Tzu's The Art of War has been adapted as a graphic novel by artist Pete Katz. The narrative focuses on a teacher instructing a pupil on the main points of the treatise, with vibrant battle scenes interspersed throughout. Issues including planning, tactics and spying are illustrated with full-colour scenes, enabling readers to understand principles from the fifth century BC.

PETE KATZ has been an illustrator for over ten years and has worked for clients including Harvey Nichols, and the British Museum. He is a member of the international Bad Apple Artist Collective.

THE SCIENCE BEHIND THE MEASUREMENT OF JUST ABOUT EVERYTHING
Christopher Joseph

A unique addition to the pop science world – how scientists measure everything from the tempo of music to a tornado's speed.

We're surrounded by measurement. It forms the foundations of science – the ohms and amps of physics and chemistry's moles and isotopes – and shapes our every day. Pavilion. Since the Pavilion imprint was founded in 1981, the list has been defined by award-winning authors and brands, successful collaborations, distinctive design, well-researched content and uncompromising production values. The imprint's main subject areas are food and drink, crafts, interiors, gardening and health and wellbeing. With an enviable roster of high-profile authors on the list, the team at Pavilion also strives to seek out new and inspiring talent to create the next bestseller.

Batsford. Batsford's history dates back to 1823, and since then it has forged a strong reputation for niche publishing. Many of the niche publishing subjects – established decades ago and sometimes a century ago – are still part of the list today; textile art, practical art and craft; architecture and design; heritage and chess. Still at the heart of the list are serious books by experts that are both accessible and beautiful. Innovation has always been part of the Batsford tradition which continues to be maintained, whether it is being the first to promote colouring for grown-ups, or show textile work as an art form. The quality of Batsford's books means they sell for years, often decades; pure backlist gold.

National Trust Books. As the official illustrated publishing partner of the National Trust, our books are inspired by the amazing British heritage sites, countryside and coastline in the Trust's care. Key topics are nature, cookery, history, heritage, travel and gardening. Wellbeing is a growing area too, as the National Trust offers so many ways to escape the stresses of modern life and reconnect with nature.

Pitkin Guides has been at the forefront of heritage publishing for over seventy years. The founder, Mr Pitkin, was a post-war entrepreneur devoted to publishing highly illustrated souvenir guidebooks that commemorated special people and events in British history. The team at Pitkin have stayed true to Mr Pitkin's legacy, publishing souvenir guides that include lavish illustrations and authoritative texts. While the focus is on visitor attractions, TV and film locations, royalty, famous people and heritage sites, they also publish popular history, military and naval titles. In addition, with Pitkin Exclusive Guides, Pitkin provides a bespoke service for heritage clients.

Exisle Publishing. Proudly independent, Exisle Publishing is owned by Gareth St John Thomas, the son of the David & Charles founder David St John Thomas. Exisle has been publishing books with passion and purpose for 22 years. A global operation, Exisle publishes non-fiction books, written by experts in language that is easily accessible and inspirational. Exisle produces the kinds of books that the very big publishers do not. More concerned about longlasting quality and ongoing relevance than flashin-the-pan trends, Exisle's list includes books that remain strong sellers for many years and deliver reliable income to all concerned well beyond the initial release dates. Our authors are, of course, all completely different, but what they have in common is authenticity, genuine knowledge and vivid enthusiasm, enriching their readers' lives with unique, individual stories and ideas. PAVILION

Our books have always focused on all aspects of lifestyle – whether food and drink, craft, health or design – and they are always beautifully produced. There’s so much that we’re proud to be publishing this autumn. Fresh from her TV debut judging on Junior Bake Off we have pastry chef Ravneet Gill, with her ode to all things sweet. The mouth-watering recipes in Sugar, I Love You are bound to be a hit, with her chocolate cookie recipe having already gained cult status both sides of the Atlantic. Undisputed king of Italian cuisine Gennaro Contaldo is also writing from the heart with recipes from the Amalfi Coast, where he grew up. His book Limoni celebrates that essential Italian ingredient – the lemon – and will transport you to sun-drenched southern Italy.

This season’s books are driven by a focus on sustainability and well-being. In Green Kids Cook, we have eco-conscious, simple recipes so that the younger generation can act on the ‘Greta effect’ while building confidence in the kitchen. Instagram sensation Stacie Swift’s Positively Awesome Journal is packed with interactive, achievable ways to focus on self-care, all in her instantly recognisable style. Finally, we’re so excited to be publishing two design classics. Reversing Into the Future contains an unparalleled collection of music memorabilia from New Wave artists. In Spring Light Jonathan Glancey tells the fascinating story of the iconic Anglepoise lamp, weaving through decades of British history to bring us closer to the design classic.

GENNARO'S LIMONI
 VIBRANT ITALIAN RECIPES CELEBRATING THE LEMON
Gennaro Contaldo

A homage to the most revered of fruit from one of the UK's most-loved Italian chefs.

The sweet, aromatic, large and thick-skinned sfusato Amalfitano (Amalfi lemon) is the extraordinary and delectable citrus fruit which Gennaro Contaldo grew up with. Lemons can cleanse, refresh, preserve, 'cook' and add a vibrant flavour to dishes as well as giving colour and an uplifting aroma. The lemon's signature sourness can add the missing, balancing element that gives a dish its depth.

From Ravioli with Ricotta, Lemon and Mint, and Sicilian Chicken Involtni, to Lemon Biscuits, and Coffee and Lemon Semi-freddo, in this book no part of the lemon is wasted. Flesh, pith and skin are chopped into salads, and juice is drizzled over meat, fish and veggies. Even the leaves are used to wrap meat, fish and cheese for extra flavour.

GENNARO CONTALDO is widely known as the Italian legend who taught Jamie Oliver all he knows about Italian cooking. Born in Minori on the Amalfi Coast, Gennaro's quintessentially Italian spirit and positive nature has made him a TV favourite. He starred in the BBC series Two Greedy Italians with the late Antonio Carluccio and makes regular appearances on BBC Saturday Kitchen. He is the author of a number of cookbooks, has his own YouTube food channel and features regularly on Jamie Oliver's food programmes.

FIBRE FOR LIFE

LIVE LONGER AND HEALTHIER WITH NATURE'S MIRACLE INGREDIENT

Dr Khosro Ezaz-Nikpay

There is no drug as powerful as fibre and this book covers all the evidence and tools needed to help us to live longer, healthier lives.

Fibre can improve the health of our heart and blood circulation, reduce inflammation and strengthen our hormonal and immune systems. People who eat more fibre live longer and healthier lives by a huge margin, yet only one in 10 of us are eating enough fibre in our diets.

Where do we find it? How much is enough? Doesn't it give us gas?

This book provides these answers and many more, inspiring the reader to shift their food intake to types of foods that are better for them, the environment, and ultimately the whole health of the planet. Chapters include information on why fibre is often ignored when it comes to discussions of a healthy diet; what fibre is and how consuming it can improve our gut health. It also includes simple recipes, a basic meal plan and storecupboard essentials to help improve our health.

DR KHOSRO EZAZ-NIKPAY has his Ph.D. in Bioorganic Chemistry from Harvard University, where he studied the ways our cells repair damage to the DNA. His company, Zendegii, focuses on developing healthy alternatives to typical foods and beverages.

CIDER REVOLUTION!

YOUR DIY GUIDE TO CIDER & PET-NAT

Mikael Nypelius & Karl Sjöström

The ideal book for cider fans or anyone looking to dip into home brewing - it's time to join the cider revolution!

Fascinated by the growing trend in natural wines, Mikael and Karl began to produce their own cider using 100% hand-picked fruit from the farms and villages outside Malmö, Sweden. Their aim is to make modern, natural drinks using only the naturally occurring yeast of the fruit, without any additives or preservatives.

Mikael and Karl seek to pass on their passion for cider and to inspire others to taste, appreciate and try making their own. As well as passing on the understanding of the cider-making processes, there are recipes for pears, cherries, plums, rhubarb and berries, and notes on tasting cider.

MIKAEL NYPELIUS and KARL SJÖSTRÖM produce contemporary Swedish cider under the company name Frukstereo. They share a background as sommeliers in restaurants and are followers of the growing trend for natural wines. They run their business from Malmö, where they produce everything by hand - from fruit to finished bottled product.

THE GREAT BRITISH TREE BIOGRAPHY

Mark Hooper

Nature writing, popular culture and history are interwoven in this exploration of the fascinating stories behind 50 famous trees throughout British history.

Inspired by the history of Britain, from the tree under which the first trade union was formed to the branches from which outlaws were hanged, this bibliography weaves the fascinating life stories behind 50 of Britain's most historically important trees.

Featured trees include the Glastonbury Hawthorn, a tree on the site of Glastonbury Abbey that flowers on Christmas Day believed to descend from an original thorn planted on the grounds by Joseph of Arimathea; and Oswald's Tree, where the dismembered body of Oswald, the Christian King of Northumbria, was said to have been hung by Penda, King of Mercia, and from where the town of Oswestry takes its name, Penda.

From the from oak on Isle Maree in Scotland said to provide release from madness to visitors who offer coins to the tree, to the beeches in Wiltshire that inspired Tolkien and the sycamore in London where Marc Bolan met his untimely fate, this book tells the unique history of the British Isles through its diverse collection of trees and forests.

MARK HOOPER is an award-winning editor and journalist. He has edited various magazines, including Hole & Corner, and is a regular contributor to Wired, *Wallpaper and the Guardian among others. He is the co-author of The Story of Tools.

All textile enthusiasts will be looking forward to Embroidering the Everyday by leading textile artist Cas Holmes, which has been inspired by the lockdown. I'm looking forward to sharing Dark Fairy Tales of Fearless Women by Rosalind Kerven, for girls and women from 15 to 115. GOBLIN MARKET

AN ILLUSTRATED POEM

Christina Rossetti

Introduction by Kirsty Gunn

An exquisitely illustrated gift edition of Christina Rossetti's best-loved poem.

Christina Rossetti's most famous poem tells the story of Lizzie and Laura, two young Victorian sisters who are tempted by the fruit sold by the goblin merchants. Although the two sisters drift apart as Laura succumbs to the forbidden fruit, the bonds of sisterhood prove strong. Exploring themes of temptation and sexuality, this classic narrative-poem comes to life in all its splendour with Georgie McAusland's dazzling illustrations, proving that the resonance of this female poet's words to women today remains undimmed. Also includes a biography of Christina Rossetti and an overview of the interpretations of this classic work.

National Trust

Welcome to National Trust Books. Working with the Trust, we make books inspired by the amazing heritage sites, countryside and coastline in its care. Our key topics are nature, cookery, history, travel and gardening. Wellbeing is a growing area too, as the National Trust offers so many ways to escape the stresses of modern life and reconnect with nature. In the words of one of its founders, Octavia Hill, 'We all want quiet. We all want beauty ... we all need space. Unless we have it, we cannot reach that sense of quiet in which whispers of better things come to us gently.'

Most of our books are published in the spring, but we've saved a couple of great ones for this autumn. The Hedgerow Cookbook is the perfect companion for the first-time forager. This new edition features one hundred delicious recipes using flowers, berries, leaves and nuts that you can easily find. I love the authors' little anecdotes about the recipes and their robust opinions - if a wild food isn't worth the effort, they'll be sure to tell you.

Our other book celebrates the Great British Shed. There are over 12 million in the UK apparently. As you'd expect, many of the best ones are looked after by the National Trust, from George Bernard Shaw's fancy revolving shed to the driftwood opium den built halfway up a cliff by the highly eccentric Reverend Hawker. You'll find all manner of other miniature marvels here too. A must-have for the shed lover in your life.

THE NATIONAL TRUST BOOK OF SHEDS

Anna Groves

A celebration of some of Britain's most important and beloved buildings – its sheds. From the humble to the not so humble.

Sheds looked after by the National Trust have inspired famous writers and housed everything from beehives to birdwatchers. These beautiful, inspiring and eccentric structures are as individual as their owners. George Bernard Shaw's shed could be rotated throughout the day to make the most of the sun, while sculptor Barbara Hepworth used hers for napping in. Full of inspiring photographs accompanied by amusing and informative text, this collection covers everything from literary writing dens and horticultural hideaways to floating sheds, sleeping sheds, coastguards' sheds, summer houses, beach huts, camping pods, bothies, teahouses, follies and more.

ANNA GROVES co-authored The National Trust Tour of Britain and is the author of the National Trust's guides to Thomas Hardy's homes, Giant's Causeway, The Argory and Blickling Estate.

BRIDGERTON'S ENGLAND

DISCOVER THE ELEGANCE AND ROMANCE OF GEORGIAN ENGLAND IN BRIDGERTON'S MAGNIFICENT FILMING LOCATIONS

Antonia Hicks

A gloriously illustrated guide to the key shooting locations for Netflix's runaway success, based on the Regency novels of Julia Quinn.

Launched on Christmas Day 2020, Bridgerton instantly captured the world's imagination with tales of romance in the Regency. It is Netflix's most popular original series with over 82 million households having watched it by the end of January 2021.

Bridgerton's England is a perfect companion to the series, mapping all the key filming locations used to portray George III's Regency. Almost all the stately homes, houses, parks and gardens used in Bridgerton are open to the public and the book examines their history, linking important scenes to each location and giving details of where and when you can visit them to relive the drama.

Readers can find out the locations used for the homes of the Bridgertons, Featheringtons, Lady Danbury, the Duke of Hastings, Queen Charlotte, along with the locations used for Whites, Vauxhall Pleasure Gardens and the Modiste's dress shop, among many others.

ANTONIA HICKS graduated from Oxford University. Her dissertation was titled 'Perceptions of adultery and marriage within the epistolary culture of the late 18th century' for which she undertook original research into the letters of the Duchess of Devonshire. She is a passionate fan of Broadway musicals and Bridgerton.

BRIDGERTON'S BATH

Antonia Hicks

This companion title to Bridgerton's England takes a more detailed view of the locations used across the city and includes a map with all the shooting locations to form a self-guided Bridgerton Walking Tour.

A key element that sets Netflix show Bridgerton apart is the extensive use of location shooting. Step forward Bath: the Regency architectural jewel gets to play many different parts of fashionable London.

Bridgerton's Bath takes you on a tour of all these locations from No.1 The Royal Crescent (the Featherington's house on Grosvenor Square) to Abbey Green (Covent Garden) and the Abbey Deli (Modiste couturier) on Abbey Street. Bridgerton intersects with Jane Austen's world at the Assembly Rooms where one of the early balls takes place, while the 18th-century Bath Guildhall also gets a place on the series' dance card. A key character in the drama is Lady Danbury and her grand mansion is Bath's former Sydney Hotel, today the Ashburne Museum. The book includes a complete episode by episode listing of all the scenes shot in Bath and a detailed map, plus a behind-the-scenes look at how the series was filmed in the city.

ANTONIA HICKS graduated from Oxford University. Her dissertation was titled 'Perceptions of adultery and marriage within the epistolary culture of the late 18th century' for which she undertook original research into the letters of the Duchess of Devonshire. PORTICO

Portico books could be variously described as humorous, innovative, inspiring and even perspective-changing – but they will always look gorgeous and make for ideal gifts. We love to publish books with a cheeky sense of humour and The Chinese Zodiac has this in spades. With this book, you can enter the Year of the Ox armed with all there is to know about each astrological sign. In Fun and Games in Woolly Bush we celebrate the eccentricities of village life in Britain. These daring knitting patterns are ideal for any crafter with an appreciation for tongue-in-cheek humour.

With more of us spending time in nature than ever before, we're thrilled to be publishing Wild Words, a beautifully illustrated guide to vocabulary from all over the world that describes natural phenomena. Learn about psithurism, from Ancient Greek, used to describe the wind rustling in the trees, or komorebi, a Japanese term that describes the scattered beams of sunlight that shine through leaves. In the successful series celebrating our most-loved stars, we have Dolly Parton: The Activity Book. The inimitable queen of country is universally adored, and these puzzles and quizzes celebrate her shrewd business sense, philanthropism and self-deprecating humour. Celebrating another wise woman, Jane Austen's Universal Truths showcases the enduring appeal of Austen's novels and how her wisdom on love, ageing and the differences between the sexes can be still be applied today.

WILD WORDS

HOW LANGUAGE ENGAGES WITH NATURE

Kate Hodges

An illustrated celebration of 75 beautiful words from all around the world, each evocative of the wild and describing a natural phenomenon.

Language is linked to how people engage with nature and the words used to express what is seen in the world are vital to an appreciation of it, bringing it more vividly to life. As the natural world and the time spent in it diminish in the face of modern living, it's vital to recall it into being with the magic of language. Each word is paired with an illustration and has a description which includes pronunciation, geographical, historical and cultural background, as well as reflecting on the emotional response the natural phenomenon can inspire.

WEATHER - A FORCE OF NATURE
 SPECTACULAR PHOTOGRAPHY FROM WEATHER PHOTOGRAPHER OF THE YEAR
The Royal Meteorological Society

A collection of unforgettable images of dramatic weather events from around the globe, each taken from the Royal Meteorological Society's acclaimed annual competition.

These are the most powerful and dramatic images from past years of the Weather Photographer of the Year competition, an annual contest held by The Royal Meteorological Society.

They depict dramatic weather phenomena from every corner of the globe and often reveal fascinating stories about what causes them and how they impact on the environment.

Each image has been specially selected by a panel of meteorologists, photographers and photo editors who look for a combination of skilful camera work and meteorological observation.

The images are grouped under five different themes - the changing climate, extreme weather, the oceans, the poles and the impact of the climate on life - and there is an introductory essay for each theme written by experts from the Royal Meteorological Society with the overriding theme of the impact of climate change running throughout the text.

THE ROYAL METEOROLOGICAL SOCIETY is the Professional and Learned Society for Weather and Climate. The Society serves anyone whose work is affected in some way by the weather or climate, or simply have a general interest in the weather.

HONEY BEES

Ingo Arndt and Jürgen Tautz

A stunning photographic record which documents for the first time the original way of life of endangered, forest-dwelling honey bees.

Honey bee colonies are commonly kept by amateur beekeepers. But honey bees also live wild in European woodlands, where they are almost unnoticed and have no interaction with humans at all. This lavish, picture-led book is a unique collaboration between Germany's leading bee expert, Prof Dr Jürgen Tautz, and one of the world's top nature photographers Ingo Arndt, who provide a fascinating insight into this mysterious hidden world. These sensational photographs document a major research project into the life of the wild honey bee, and present images of many behaviours never captured before. It also reveals new scientific insights which promise to revolutionise conventional beekeeping and conservation.

PROF DR. JÜRGEN TAUTZ is a behavioural scientist, sociobiologist and bee expert. He is a Professor at the Biocenter of the Biozentrum der Julius-Maximilians-Universität in Würzburg and chairman of its bee research group. He is author of several popular science books on bees and holder of the Communicator Award of the DFG. INGO ARNDT is one of the world's top nature photographers. His work appears in international magazines and newspapers such as GEO, Stern, National Geographic and BBC Wildlife. His photographs have won numerous prizes, including a World Press Photo Award. He has won the Wildlife Photographer of the Year Award several times.
